

MedInvent, LLC announces issuance of new US patent 9,402,947

August 2, 2016, Medina, OH. MedInvent, LLC announced today the issuance of US Patent 9,402,947 Portable fluid delivery system for the nasal and paranasal sinuses.

William Flickinger, CEO stated: "Our research and development efforts continue to produce unique and novel concepts in nasal drug delivery, resulting in intellectual property that creates a unique space for us to develop products that ultimately meet the unmet needs of patients suffering from chronic sinus conditions despite their physician's best efforts using surgery and traditional oral or IV medications. NasoNeb's unique delivery ensure broad deposition of medication throughout the nasal cavity. This patent in particular enables us to confidently pursue the development of our next generation technology."

The NasoNeb Nasal Nebulizer is available by prescription-only compounding pharmacies across the US and in select countries.
